PLOURING AND COEN-MILL, CHEAP—in firstclass order, if application is made immediately;

To the Voters of Shelby County.

I seryed one term as County Trustee for Shelby county after the collection of taxes was connected with that office. At the expiration of the term it was generally admitted that I was entitled to a re-election. I was before the Democratic convention of 1878, consisting of one hundred and seventy-eight men, selected from every district in Shelby county, and received the unanimous vote of the convention—good evidence on the part of my Democratic friends that I should be re-elected. After the nomination of the Democratic ticket an unaccountable and unnatural combination of parties was formed against the Democratic ticket, which finally defeated the whole ticket. Many others as well as myself knowing the value of the ticket felt gomewhat aggrieved at such action. Believing in my sirragth before the people, not entirely upon my own judgment, I am induced to become a candidate again for that office. I appear before you, fellow-litzens, upon my own platform: "Is he competent, and is he house." I will submit my claim to the Democratic convention on the eighth instant. I have lived among you too long to attempt a vindication of my past life. Of that and my business qualifications you know as much about as I do.

The White Element, Although Inferior in Numbers, Proved Itself Superior in Tact and Management-The Colored Troops Secure a Barren Victory.

At noon yesterday at the Exposition build-ing about two hundred Republicans, chiefly colored persons, assembled in mass convencolored persons, assembled in mass convention. Mr. I. M. Hill, chairman of the county executive committee, called the convention to order, and stated that the meeting was called for the purpose of selecting candidates for county efficers to represent the party. He desired to say a few words, and he had reduced what he had to say to writing, which desired to say a few words, and he had reduced what he had to say to writing, which he proceeded to read as follows:

Fellow-Citizens and Refublicans of Sheley County-You are called here to-day by your executive county committee to nominate candidates for the August election. This is a duty, my fellow-citizens, that devolves upon you, and, in fulfilling that duty, there is a responsibility pertaining to it which cannot be evaded. First, in selecting your candidates for the respective offices, you are to know that they are honest and capable of performing the functions of the respective offices, you are to know that they are honest and capable of performing the functions of the respective offices, you are to know that they are honest and capable of performing the functions of the respective offices which you designate for them. Second, will they be able and willing to do the duties of the offices? Third, we do not nominate any man for his own benefit. There is no man or set of men who have any right or claim by birth or heritage to any office in our country. We recognize no privileged class among us, some born to rule, and some born to obey. And no man in our broad land has ever done more than he was bound to do to promote your principles and the consequent good of our common country than, as an American citizen, it was his duty to do, and for this no one deserves any reward. Now, my fellow-citizens, your course is a plain one. Whom do you believe will best serve you in faithfully observing his oath of office, and which man among us is most competent? This is a simple question, and easily answered. No man deserves or has the elightest claim upon you because of his birth or color. No man, as I before said, is a privileged man among American citizens. If he has greater rights than you and I because he is a native of Germany, France or Ireland, or that his color is lighter or darker than ours, then if he is of a privileged class—you and I, as American citizens, are of an inferior race. This idea, fellow-citizens, w

Prof. B. K. Sampson, colored, was selected as vice-president, on motion of Colonel L. B. aton. Marsh Crusher and J. T. Turner, both colred, were selected as secretaries, and the sporters of the APPEAL and Avalanche were ected as assistant secretaries.

SELECTING CANDIDATES. The following committee on selecting candidates, to present the same to the convention, was selected: Wm. M. Randolph, A. Froman, James Lott, Robert M'Kenna, L. B. Eston.

Mr. J. W. Vernon offered the following esolution, which was adopted unanimously: Resolved. That it is the sense of this convention that each and every man who takes part in this con-vention by voting, shall be bound and considered as pledged to the support of the whole ticket which may here be nominated. may here be nominated.

Resolved further. That no candidate shall be voted for until such candidate shall first pledge himself to support the whole Republican ticket here nominated according to his means and ability.

ED SHAW TALKS, Pending the absence of the committee, Chairman Hill said that if the convention desired it, a speech could be heard. Loud calls were made for Tom Hamilton and Educed to the convention by the chairman.

Before he commenced to talk, Mr. Ranolph, chairman of the commi nations, appeared and said the committee desired to know if one or more names for each office should be selected. The convention agreed that the committee should select two

SHAW CONTINUES. Ed Shaw commenced his speech by saying that the Republicans had to fight the Democratic and National parties. The mission of the Republican party is not ended, nor will it be until the colored man of the south has the same privileges as the white man in street-cars, railroad cars, hotels, public schools and other places. He reviewed the history of the Republican party and gave his own experience as a free nigger south in old slave times. The National party claim to give equal rights to all men, but at the last election you had to get down on your knees, although you had seven thousand votes, in order to get a colored man on their ticket. They refused to place a man on their ticket a few days ago, yet they have the impudence to ask you for your votes. The National party has no principle, and their motto is, "No nigger need apply." He lauded the Republican party as one of purer principles and intelligence, and his remarks were received with applause. He denounced General Hancock charging that he tied a rope to hang Mrs. Surratt; that he epublican party and gave his own experitied a rope to hang Mrs. Surratt; that he knows nothing but army business, never hav-ing held a civil office. [Applause.]

TOM HAMILTON being called for, stepped on the platform. He was dressed in a suit of black, and had a Garfield and Arthur badge picely pinned on his left breast. He coun-eled cool delibera-tion in selecting a county ticket. He oposed nominating a man for office because h s a white man or a colored man. Men should e selected with a view to the best interest ess of color or prejudice. [Cheers.]

of the Republican party. They should sup port the nominees of this convention regard REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE. Mr. Randolph, of the committee, appeared and said he had two reports to make. The and said he had two reports to make. The majority report was as follows: For sheriff, Edward Shaw; trustee, L. B. Eaton; chancellor, J. E. Birelow; judge of the criminal court, L. B. Horrigan. The minority report was the same except as to the office of sheriff, Theodore Krekel being the name substituted.

TABLING THE PLEDGE RESOLUTION. General W. J. Smith moved to lay the ron-clad pledge resolution on the table. DISCHARGE OF GAS.

Mr. Tom Hamilton opposed "going back" in the pledge resolution. [Cheers.] General W. J. Smith desired to be hear in reply. The resolution was in bad taste, and the gentleman with the Garfield badge on his coat, who had just spoken, was in bataste. The whole thing was to rule out one or two gentlemen who will not be pledged or two gentlemen who will not be pledged by this or any other convention. [Applause, and cries of "sit down."] He added that the colored man was more interested in this mat-ter than any other, and Judge Horrigan was the only judge who has meted out full justice to the people of this county. [Cheers.] The fiat has gone forth, and he will be elected by fiat has gone forth, and he will be elected by last speaker. Judge Horrigan has no right to put any man in the jury-box. [Sensation.] That is the business of the sheriff, who had to summon men as jurors. [A voice: "Judge Horrigan sends men to the Island."] Mr Hill continued, stating that Judge Horrigan declines to run for the office or make any canvass. You may put any one you please as nominee for judge of the criminal court, but as sure as the sun shines he will be beaten and Judge Horrigan will be elected spirit of Judge Horrigan's dream since 1878, when he was the nominee of the Democratic party, and he (Hamilton) had the distinguished honor of voting against him. Judge Horrigan has made a good officer, but he was not in favor of making him the Republican nominee and letting him glean votes from General W. J. Smith moved to adopt the majority report as a whole. Mr. Trowbridge, colored, got into a dispressed by the convention. He again arose and asked the convention to vote down the olution of General Smith, to adopt the nsjority report as a whole. [Applause.]

MAJORITY REPORT ADOPTED. The motion to adopt the majority report as whole was put and lost. VOTING FOR THE NOMINEES

A motion was made to vote for the nor es seriatim, as follows: Sher ff, chancellor riminal court judge and county trustee. The motion was adopted a most unanimously.

Mr. Trowbridge, colored, nominated Edward Shaw, to ored, and hoped he would be elected by the convention. ED SHAW NOMINATED.

The convention unanimously voted for Edward Shaw, colored, for the office of sheriff, and he was declared the Republican nominee for Shelby county. [Great applause.] Ed Shaw thanked the convention for the honor conferred upon him. conferred upon him.

J E. BIGELOW NOMINATED. The convention nominated J. E. Bigelow for chancellor. He thanked the convention, but d'd not propose to make a speech. If elected, he would perform his duty.

when the name of L. B. Horrigan for criminal court judge was reached. The trouble commenced on the vote being taken. The ayes and noes seemed about equally divided, and a division was called for. DIVISION DEMANDED

Fred Hunt, colored, advocated the nomination of Judge Horrigan. Numbers of the most influential men in the Republican party have called upon Judge Horrigan to run for the office and they will vote for him at all hezards, no matter whom you no minate here to-day; therefore, they ask the convention to vote for Judge Horrigan. They had given the other side all they asked for and now if they wanted to divide the party let them do it, let them force it on us. [Applause] COUNTING THE VOTE.

Mr. Froman, colored, asked that tellers be appointed to count the vote. [Great commo-tion and sensation prevailed in the conven-tion at this time, some twenty or more colred men standing up and speaking at the ame time

INDESCRIBABLE CONFUSION The chairman asked that the Horrigan man go to the left and the auti-Horrigan men go o the right. [Another scene of great confusion prevailed; fifty colored orators speak-ing together, and the chair was unable to naintain order.]

After half an hour's trouble, it was decided that the tellers stand in front of the chairman, and that each Republican as he passed between the tellers announce his vote to defeat the will of the people. After half an hour's trouble, it was de HORRIGAN B.OM.

The tellers took position, and the Horrigan CHARGES OF FRAUD. The anti-Horrigan men arose and charged that the Horrigan men were passing through and voting twice. This charge brought out all the orators, and the confusion was worse

POUNDING FURNITURE. The chairman lost all control of the convention, and hammered away with his heavy cane for a quarter of an hour upon a wooden table, to the great danger of that venerable ANTI HORRIGAN MARCH.

The opponents of Judge Horrigan's nomination now marched between the tellers amid great confusion. Several men were captured while attempting to march by the ellers twice and give two votes HORRIGAN WINS.

The chairman announced the result of the vote as follows: Horrigan, 78; anti-Horrigan, 68.

The announcement was received ami great cheering and waving of hats. WON'T STAND IT.

Reads a Long Dissertation Upon Politics, Past, Present and Future, and Nominates Col. Andrew J. Kellar for Congress-Col. R. M. Edwards Talks.

At half-past eight o'clock last night about two hundred citizens, one-third of whom were colored, assembled at the Greenlaw operahouse. The meeting was called to order by Mr. Chairman Fox, of the Central Greenback club. Oa motion of Judge Logwood Colonel A. J. Kellar was male chairman of the meeting. He thanked the meeting for the honor conferred upon him by calling upon him to preside, when it is intended to indorse the action of the National Greenback. Labor party and its platform. He had bat. Labor party and its platform. He had the honor of introducing a distinguished Mississi, pian, General A. W. West, a man whose reputation and patriotism has extend-ed far beyond his State—hroughout the entire country. [Applause.]

a tall, stately looking gentleman, gray-haired and unshaved, but with fine presence, strong resonant voice, and enveloped in a black alpaca duster, advanced to the footlights and was received with applause. He opened his elabo ate speech, which was on the table near by, by saying that his party was poor, as all reformers were. The press in the main, the bankers, the money power, the speculators, the aristocracy were against them, but the people were for them. He entered into a disquisition on liberty in the abstract, and especially American liberty. He claimed that we now have two great parties, whose followers are as arrogant as those who burned their opponents in olden times of the reformation. He as arrogant as those who burned their oppo-nents in olden times of the reformation. He was an elector on the Tilden tilket in Mis-sissippi in favor of reform. The Democratic party then professed it and believed it. He spoke of the forms of evils in the land that needed reform—moral, social and political evils—between the Democratic and Repub-lican parties that are required evils in lican parties that are running riot over the lican parties that are running riot over the liberties of the people. This reform movement among the poorer classes comes with grace because inspired by Jehovah itself. General West garnished this portion of his speech with appropriate biblical quotations. Indeed, he seemed to draw largely from holy writ for practical illustrations and pointed allusions. The press of the country seek to beguile the people and keep the truth from you. He would read his speech, and he could say that it was the first political speech that he ever wrote, and he wrote it for publication. General West then proceeded to read in a clear tone of voice his elaborate address, from which the following points of interest have been taken: In the National convention were represented all classes of people, except Chinamen, whom they did not recognize as worthy of American citizenship. He proceeded to discuss the differences between his and other parties. A great national or State debt was an enemy of liberty, and should not be tolerated. In Jewish history we are taught that people were freed from debts every seven years. The claims of the citizen is superior to that of the creditor. When debts are entered into in good faith, and both parties are benefitted by it, those debts should be respected, but not otherwise. That's the doctrine. In this country the taxpayer has no right, but the creditors have all, and what is that but this country the taxpayer has no right, but the creditors have all, and what is that but slavery. This is no new fangled doctrine. Damocracy is now using the same arguments to secure power that the Republicans used son, to support the arguments he had ad vanced. He recited a long bill of indict ments against the Republican and Demo cratic parties, claiming that they professed any principles calculated to retain them in

At this time a colored Greenback club, with torches and transparencies, and headed by a band of music, entered the hall, during which General West had to suspend reading his speech. RESUMPTION OF SPEECE General West continued his address, giving a history of the public debt of the United States from its earliest history, and drew a contrast as to making the debt between that day and the present. He referred to the imprisonment of the agitator Kearney, which he said was for advocating principles advocated by Washington, and called upon the Irish and other foreigners to leave a party that enforced and advocated such imprisonment. He advocated sending Colonel A. J. Kellar to congress, who would defend the producers against the monopolists and bondholders.

LIGHTS OUT. For some reason or other the gaslights were turned out, and General West had to cease speaking, but the colored club lighted torches and darkness ceased to exist by a large majority. CONCLUSION. General West con tinued by discussing the bondholding gentry, the national banks and currency generally, but owing to the darkness our reporter was unable to glean the points made by the speaker. His peroration was quite eloquent, and he closed his lengthy address amid applause long continued.

At the close, over half of those in attendance left the operatures and but half a ance left the operahouse, and but half a dozan dimly fuming terches glared out fitully on the scene.

Colonel Kellar, in a few well chosen senences, introduced Colonel R M. Edwards, the nominee for governor of the National Greenback party of Tennessee, as an East Tennessean, and who, like all East Tennes-seans, could speak for himself. COLONEL EDWARDS on rising said that owing to the lateness of the hour he would not detain the meeting any great length of time. He confined his remarks to a short discussion of the State debt and the policy of the Democratic party concerning it. He criticised the course of overnor Marks in a sharp manner, and con demned the policy he advocated with refer-ence to the settlement of that debt. He had ence to the settlement of that debt. He had no particular use for party platforms unless some measures were advocated to carry out the leading planks of such platforms. In Tennessee the workingman was not protected in his rights, and was left to be plundered by soulless corporations. He told several anecdotes applicable to the points he discussed and he way of illustrating them, and closed and by way of illustrating them, and close his speech exhorting the workingmen to sup-port the Greenback principles and nominees. Colonel Edwards is not a very effectual speaker, and did not make a very good im-pression upon his hearers, nor did he create

THE WIND UP.

When the speaker concluded, Colonel Kellar announced that an adjournment was in order, and, after giving a cheer, the crowd dispersed. It is needless to add that among those in attendance were at least a hundred or more Democrats and Republicans, who were drawn there by motives of curjosity On the whole the mass ratification meeting may be put down as a failure in many senses may be put down as a failure in many sen of the term.

Messrs. Lawrence & Martin, 111 Madison street, Chicago, Ill.—Gentlemen: I have received "a certified formula," giving the ingredients and relative proportions used in the manufacture of an article which you advertise and sell under the name &

"TOLU, BOCK AND BYE." This compound, according to your formula. In the opinion of this office, would have a sufficient quantity of the BALSAM OF TOLU to give it all the advantages ascribed to this article in pectoral complaints, while the Whisky and Syrup constitute an emulston rendering the compound an agreeable remedy to the patient.

In the opinion of this office, an article compounded according to this formula, may properly be classed as a medicinal preparation under the provisions of Schedule A, following section S487, United States
